On behalf of the family of Mildred Evans, we would like to thank the Village of Brooklyn Heights for your support during this time of loss. Mom believed in our community as demonstrated by the many activities she contributed to during her sixty plus years as a resident. Through her work on Home Days Committee's, Women's Service Club & her service as a Precinct judge at election time, Mom was able to pay it forward to this wonderful community. Mom also spent time assisting in the greenhouses & was one of the first trained jail matrons for the Village, a job she took very seriously with great pride. The outpouring of support & donations made in Mom's name to the Student Assistance Fund at Cuyahoga Heights Schools have been overwhelming & a tremendous tribute to Mom's legacy. We have been truly blessed to grow up in such a caring, loving community. Thanks again,

The Evans Children, Bud, Mark,

An Article from Kathleen Kapusta, LISW-S Social Worker

You, the Caregiver, But So Much More

What is in a name? In the past, those who assumed the role of caring for others were referred to as "Caretakers." This same group of individuals, in more recent times, is generally referred to as "Caregivers." It is much more than just a term, it is what it signifies. The term "caregiver" is synonymous with one who extends themselves to others, in the role of giving care. And that is precisely who you are...a caregiver.

As a caregiver, you may be accustomed to hearing people describe you with words such as selfless, loving, devoted and maybe even, "a saint." Yet, how often do you look at yourself in the role of caregiver and decide these qualities could not be further from the truth?

Certainly it is true that caregivers often possess many admirable qualities. However, the reality of the day to day role of caring for another person, one who may be totally dependent upon you, may find you describing yourself more often with terms such as guilty, filled with resentment, angry, and lonely.

Let's explore some of these qualities. Why would a caregiver see themselves as guilty? Simply because you are unable to perform all the "would haves, could haves and should haves" that your role demands. Humanly unable to meet all these expectations, you then assume the mantra of guilt. You must learn to accept the gap between perfection and reality, what you think you should do and what you realistically could go.

Do you ever feel resentful? If you see yourself as abandoned, having the full responsibility fall upon you, or not appreciated for the work you do, resentment is likely to follow. Perhaps one of the best ways to deal with resentful is to vent. You may find this outlet in a trusted friend, family member, professional or even a caregiver support group. The important thing is to find somewhere or someone so you can release the feelings before you explode.

It is difficult to find a caregiver who has never experienced the emotion of anger. So often the role of caregiver requires you to give up yourself for another. When personal needs are consistently placed second, anger is a common response. The best way to deal with it is to acknowledge the anger and focus your efforts on trying to minimize the situation. For instance is there a compromise where someone else may periodically assume some of the responsibility, freeing you up for yourself?

Lastly, loneliness is frequently synonymous with being a caregiver. To maintain outside relationships takes time; and time is a commodity that generally is fleeting for caregivers. As demands on your time grow, social interaction tends to diminish, resulting in a loss of social support. To survive, you must make a conscious effort to reach out to others either in person, on the phone, or online. Do whatever works best, just make sure that you do something.

The overall message is that to be the very best caregiver possible, you MUST also care for yourself. Without a doubt this may be difficult, but you must make it possible if you are to survive and thrive in the often near impossible job of being a caregiver.

Arbor Day Celebration

The Tenth Annual Arbor Day Celebration was held on Sunday, April 23rd. This year's celebration featured a tree planted in memory of Bethany Cocco.

The Brooklyn Heights Tree Commission selected a Tulip Tree, a deciduous tree from the Magnolia Family.

As the years pass, the tree will serve as a living memorial of the wonderful person Bethany was, and be a lasting reminder of Bethany to the many friends and loved ones in Brooklyn Heights.

WHAT'S HOLDING YOU BACK? CLICK IT OR TICKET

For a third consecutive year, the Ohio Department of Public Safety, the Ohio State Highway Patrol and the Governor's Highway Safety Office are teaming with local law enforcement, Safe Communities and all emergency responders to increase seat belt use.

This year during the campaign period, law enforcement will adopt a zero tolerance policy to those not buckling up. Tickets will be issued to those found in violation of Ohio state law. Officers warn drivers to "click it" or expect a "ticket." The "Click It or Ticket" campaign is a national movement coordinated by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). It is being incorporated with Ohio's What's Holding You Back? Campaign.

The campaign encourages Ohioans to buckle up every trip, every time or face the financial consequences of a ticket.

An observational survey conducted by the Governor's Highway Safety Office showed the campaign was successful in raising seat belt usage statewide. Ohio's usage rate reached an all time high of 74.7 percent. Campaign partners hope to continue this trend with increased belt usage statewide.

Our goal is to increase seat belt usage and to save lives. According to NHTSA, raising seat belt usage rates by 5 percent would save 40 lives every year. Raising the rate by 10 percent would save 82 lives.

Last year, more than half of all Ohioans who died on our roadways in motor vehicle crashes were unbuckled. While a seat belt may not have prevented all of these deaths, experts predict it would have saved many.

One person dies in a fatal crash every 13 minutes; 114 people die every day; 40,000 people die every year.

In a 23-year span, NHTSA estimated seat belts saved the lives of more than 100,000 people. That's more than the entire population of Youngstown, Ohio and equals the population of Marion, Athens and Massillon, combined.

You can't put a price tag on the real losses though: the loss of someone's mom, someone's dad, or someone's child.

Seventy-five percent of all serious motor vehicle accidents occur within 25 miles of a person's home. With those odds, you have a better chance of having a crash during a quick trip to the grocery store for a gallon of milk.

But roads and drivers are unpredictable. If you knew you were going to be in a crash on a certain day, at a certain time, you would, without a doubt, buckle your belt. Don't make excuses.

Our mission is to save lives. That's why, starting May 24 through June 6, local law enforcement will be closely watching Ohio roads and highways for violators of Ohio's seat belt and child passenger laws. Wearing a seat belt and insisting that those who travel with you buckle up is the easiest thing you can do to protect yourself, your friends, and your family.

Beg, plead, even get mad, Do whatever it takes to change the deadly bad habit of not buckling up every trip, every time. Click it or ticket, what's holding you back?

Dear Residents,

Do you have children or grandchildren who would like to swing a golf club? Looking for an economical way to introduce them to another sport? The First Tee of Cleveland is a wonderful place to start.

We are aware of success stories and references from Joe Kocab and his nephew, Jim, who even traveled to out of town events when he was in the program. Recent village participants from ages 6 to 14, boys and girls, include the families of Apathy, Galek, Lasky and Urbanic. There may be more, but talk to them about First Tee participation.

The next session starts June 5 for the summer.

There is registration information and a form attached. To clarify, boys and girls can start as early as age 6 in the Mighty Mites. It's only $35 per 5 week season.

PLAYers ages 8-13 have 2 sessions per week. They can try 3 sessions for $30, go one day per week for 5 weeks for $50 or twice per week for $100. These same rates apply to 13-18 year olds.

Check out the Village Website for complete information on week long Summer Camps, Academies, LPGA Girls Golf, and Volunteer information.

This all takes place nearby in Newburgh Heights at the Metro Parks Washington Park Golf course.

I highly recommend this program as it is much more than golf. It teaches our youth Nine Healthy Habits including Physical, Emotional, and Community. No previous skills are required. Respect and fun are top priorities.

I would be happy to share my experiences watching my grandchildren in the program.

Have a great summer!
