SAFETY TIPS FROM LAW ENFORCEMENT PROFESSIONALS

Take a moment to look this over & then sit down with your child & go over each point, answering questions & encouraging conversation as you go. This may be the most valuable ten to fifteen minutes you will ever spend with your child.

WHAT EVERY CHILD SHOULD KNOW AND UNDERSTAND . . .

- Children should know their full name, telephone number & full address, including the state they live in.
- Teach them how to make emergency (911) calls & let them know what to expect when they call.
- They should know to kick & scream if any stranger attempts to grab them.
- They should know to never go anywhere with strangers. A stranger is anyone you don't know well. Set up a code word system with them, & tell them not to go anywhere with anyone who does not have the code word.
- They should stay away from parked cars, alleys & dark doorways & should know to always stay in plain view of crowds of people.
- They should never allow older strangers to play in their games.
- Tell them to always attend school extracurricular activities in groups.
- Children should never allow strangers to take pictures of them or their friends. Tell them to run away & tell an adult if someone does.
- Children should never ride their bike alone or at night.
- Children should always answer the phone when they are home alone. They should tell the caller that their parents are busy & can't come to the phone & take a message. Practice this with them But they should never answer the door when they are alone & never allow strangers into the home.

Adult Protective Services - Part 1

If you look at any website that discusses issues of aging, caregiving or preparing financially for anticipated Medicaid services, you probably see a number of questions like this:

- My mother lives across the country, and seems to have a new "friend" who has inserted herself into Mom's life. I'm afraid she's being taken advantage of, but Mom doesn't want to discuss it.
- My brother lives with my Dad and basically mooches off him. He doesn't pay rent and I just found out that Dad has run up tremendous credit card debt – something he would never have thought of doing just five years ago. What can I do?
- The neighbors just called said they've seen vermin around my sister's house. She never comes out and the porch is piled full of old furniture and cat litter. Is this my problem?
- The doctor told me that my husband can't be left alone anymore. But he won't allow anyone else in our home and I feel like a prisoner. What am I supposed to do?

Each and every one of these situations is daunting. What's probably also true is that it is a crisis waiting to happen. Especially when we don't see people for a while, it's easy to miss the signs that something is "off" until a fall, an auto accident, or a scam alerts us that all is not as it should be.

What does Adult Protective Services (APS) Do?

One of the most important resources to consider is your local Adult Protective Services (APS). APS are social services provided to abused, neglected, or exploited older adults, as well as adults of all ages with significant disabilities (in most states). APS is typically administered by local or state health departments and includes a multidisciplinary approach to helping older adults. Services range from the initial investigation of mistreatment to providing health and supportive services for the neglected senior in question. They may also lead to legal interventions if necessary, including the appointment of a legal guardian.

Forms of abuse include physical, emotional, verbal, and sexual abuse, as well as financial exploitation and neglect from a caregiver. Most states also include "self-neglect" as a reason for qualifying for APS. Self-neglect refers to a person who is unable to care for themselves due to physical or mental impairments. This is one of the most often reported situations. Family members and friends may realize help is needed and are willing to intervene, but the senior just refuses.

Change Your
Clocks Back &
Smoke Alarm
Batteries

Dear Village Residents,

Forgetting to turn your clock BACK on Sunday, November 5, 2017 could cost you some valuable time; forgetting to change the smoke detector's battery could cost you your life! The Brooklyn Heights Fire Department reminds you to change your smoke detector batteries as you reset your clocks from daylight savings time. The time changes in the fall and spring coincide with recommended battery life in a smoke detector. Smoke detectors are present in 92% of American homes, but nearly one-third don't work because of worn or missing batteries. As part of our ongoing effort to make certain that every village household has a working smoke detector, the fire department will accept any resident's request to have their smoke detector batteries replaced. More importantly, if you do not have a working smoke detector or if it is ten years old or older, please buy one and we will install it for you. If you would like to participate in this program, please fill out the form below and drop it in the payment box located to the left of the main entrance of our municipal building (345 Tuxedo Ave.). I will personally contact you to schedule a date and time.

Sincerely,

Donna Tesar, Fire Department Administrative Assistant

Cuyahoga County

SOLID WASTE DISTRICT

CuyahogaRecycles.org

CuyahogaRecycles.org is Go-To Source to Stay Green this Fall

When fall temperatures drop and leaves begin to turn, many people's thoughts turn to preparing their homes and yards for impending winter. That means cleaning up and cleaning out which can produce a lot of excess stuff such as leftover hazardous wastes, leaves and yard debris, old clothing and outdated electronics. What's an environmentally-minded Northeast Ohioan supposed to do?

CuyahogaRecycles.org has all the answers. It's the go-to resource for residents to learn about recycling rules, composting, donating and everything to do with reducing, reusing and recycling in Cuyahoga County.

Here are just a few recycling tips for a cleaner and greener fall season:

1. Fall is the perfect time to gather up all your household hazardous waste products and participate in your community's collection program. Many communities across Cuyahoga County hold collection events during specific times of the year. Others collect household hazardous waste year-round. Find your community's information at CuyahogaRecycles.org.
2. Last year's gear and gadgets are out of date the minute you get a new phone or computer. Don't let those old electronics go to the landfill. Recycle them. Just not in your curbside recycling. Take old computers and electronics to Staples, Best Buy or Cleveland nonprofit RET3 job corp.
3. Here in the Forest City, we're blessed with an abundance of trees which, of course, means loads of leaves come fall. Don't let those leaves go to a landfill. Compost them yourself or through your community's pick-up program. Visit CuyahogaRecycles.org to learn about how your community disposes of leaves and yard waste such as grass and shrub clippings.
4. Old clothes seem to pile up at the end of the season and nobody wants them taking up space around the house. While you can't recycle them in your curbside recycling, they can be donated for reuse. Search "clothing" on CuyahogaRecycles.org to learn about dozens of donation locations across Cuyahoga County.

When you visit CuyahogaRecycles.org for information about how to reduce, reuse and recycle in Cuyahoga County, you can feel confident you're getting the right answers from the experts. The site was launched in 2016 as part of a comprehensive public education campaign focusing on teaching residents of Cuyahoga County how to recycle more and recycle better. "Being green and staying green is easy in Cuyahoga County," says executive director Diane Bickett. "CuyahogaRecycles.org can help answer any recycling, composting or waste disposal question as you start your fall clean-up projects."

About The Cuyahoga County Solid Waste District

The Cuyahoga County Solid Waste District is the public agency helping the people of Cuyahoga County reduce, reuse and recycle at home, at work and in our communities. We serve as the leading resource in the County for information, expertise and programs that support sustainable materials management and reduce the environmental impact of waste.

Visit www.CuyahogaRecycles.org or call 216.443.3749 to learn how to recycle in your community and discover other recycling and disposal options.
